

Curtis Building Hosts Kansas Don't Spoil It Day

The Bureau of Waste Management recently hosted 'Kansas Don't Spoil It! Day' in the KDHE 5th floor conference room 530. A variety of activities took place to help educate our building neighbors about solid waste issues. All Curtis Building occupants were invited to stop by and:

- Cast their vote for the winning student artwork to be featured in the Kansas Don't Spoil It! 2005 wall calendar
- Test their skills and increase knowledge about a wide range of fun solid waste related educational games featuring recycling, composting and household hazardous waste
- View the newly created 'Solid Waste Hall of Fame' trophy and learn about the inaugural inductees, as well as the Bureau's new Mobile Education Trailer which is planned to be used for off site education and outreach activities
- Watch the newly produced documentary film '10 Years of Progress' that features the people of Kansas who have made a difference in improving solid waste management over the past decade, as well as Secretary Bremby challenging solid waste managers to continue into the future with such exemplary progress

For more information regarding the Bureau of Waste Management's Public Education and Outreach activities, contact Jim Rudeen 296-1603

Photo credit: Sam Sunderraj, BWM